20th Australasian Gaming Expo – Registration Now Open

Sunday 16th to Tuesday 18th August are the dates for the 2009 Australasian Gaming Expo trade exhibition and preparations are well under way, with online visitor registration now available at www.austgamingexpo.com and the Gaming Expo Help Line ready to take calls on 1300 724 030.

Entry to both the trade exhibition and the Australasian Gaming Briefing is complimentary to gaming industry executives, courtesy of the Gaming Technologies Association. This includes management representatives of government, regulatory, research and support bodies; clubs; hotels; casinos; resorts and similar Hospitality Industry establishments. The event is not open to the public.

Well over 100 companies are already posted on the list of exhibitors, including 20 which are new to the event. That means new technology, products, ideas and services like never before – and with 30 companies having exhibited at every Australasian Gaming Expo since 1990, this will be an event which will provide interesting surprises around every corner of the exhibition.

The Australasian Gaming Briefing will be held at 4pm on Monday 17 August. Featuring Channel 9's Finance Editor Ross Greenwood, the Briefing will be opened by NSW Minister for Gaming and Racing, The Hon. Kevin Greene MP. The Gaming Technologies Association is certain that the Briefing will be an important event in the gaming calendar.

Trade visitors can arrange accommodation at special event rates, by contacting Tour Hosts on 02 9265 0700 or age09@tourhosts.com.au or online at www.tourhosts.com.au/age09/.

So save the dates – Sunday 16th to Tuesday 18th August – and register now at www.austgamingexpo.com or call the Gaming Expo Help Line on 1300 724 030.
